

Special Issue on Nurse and Education

Call for Papers

The aim of nursing education is a development of the nursing profession. This education is provided to nursing students by experienced nurses and other medical professionals who have qualified or experienced for educational tasks. Most countries offer nurse education courses that can be relevant to general nursing or to specialized areas including mental health nursing, pediatric nursing and post-operative nursing. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in this area of nurse and education.

In this special issue, we invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles that explore nurse and education. In this special issue, potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Diploma nursing education
- Nursing qualifications
- Nurse education in practice
- Interprofessional education
- Nursing specialties
- Case studies
- Advancing nursing careers

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue –Nurse and Education” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue timetable:

Submission Deadline	February 12th, 2020
Publication Date	April 2020
