

Special Issue on
Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) Research

Call for Papers

Coronavirus disease (COVID-19) is an infectious disease caused by a newly discovered coronavirus. Most people infected with the COVID-19 virus will experience mild to moderate respiratory illness and recover without requiring special treatment. Older people, and those with underlying medical problems like cardiovascular disease, diabetes, chronic respiratory disease, and cancer are more likely to develop serious illness. As of 3 April 2020, more than 1.01 million cases of COVID-19 have been reported in more than two hundred countries and territories, resulting in over 53,000 deaths. More than 211,000 people have recovered.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) Research. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- COVID-19 testing
- Transmission mechanism
