

Special Issue on COVID-19 Research

Call for Papers

Coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) is a contagious disease caused by severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2). The first case was identified in Wuhan, China, in December 2019. It has since spread worldwide, leading to an ongoing pandemic.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on COVID-19 Research. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Epidemiology and health statistics
- Molecular biology of coronaviruses
- Immunology
- Virology
- Bioinformatics
- Novel therapies
- Environmental medicine
- Risk assessment and management
- Prevention and control
- Clinical management
- Vaccine development and vaccinations
- COVID-19 and public health
- Primary healthcare in the time of COVID-19
- Mental health
- Economic and social impact of COVID-19
- Health education during the pandemic
- Post COVID complications

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – COVID-19 Research” should be chosen during your submission.
