

Special Issue on Legal Study and Human Rights Advocacy

Call for Papers

Legal Study and Human Rights Advocacy focuses on understanding the principles of law and advocating for the protection and promotion of human rights. It encompasses the exploration of legal systems, legislation, and international conventions that ensure the fair treatment and equal rights of all individuals. Through legal research and analysis, professionals in this field investigate cases of human rights violations, provide legal assistance to victims, and work towards promoting policies and laws that safeguard human rights on both national and international levels. With a deep understanding of legal frameworks and a commitment to social justice, experts in legal study and human rights advocacy strive to create a more just and equitable society by challenging discrimination, advocating for marginalized communities, and ensuring access to justice for all.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Legal Study and Human Rights Advocacy. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Civil and political rights
- Discrimination
- Economic, social and cultural rights
- Equal rights
- Fair treatment
- Human rights and democracy
- International conventions
- Legal assistance
- Marginalized communities
- Rights of children
- Rights of disabilities
- Rights of women
- Social justice

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Legal Study and Human Rights Advocacy” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	October 16th, 2024
Publication Date	December 2024

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at blr@scirp.org.