

Special Issue on Emerging Market

Call for Papers

This special issue on “Emerging Market” will be focusing on the latest development in the nation economy and reform processes. Emerging markets are increasingly recognized as a diverse set of business, cultural, economic, financial, institutional, legal, political and social environments within which to test, reassess and renew received wisdoms about how the business world works, to gain deeper insights into prevailing theories and their supporting evidence, and to make new discoveries that will enhance human welfare in all environments including the world's poorest countries, the developing world, the transition countries and the developed world. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of emerging market.

In this special issue, we invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles that explore emerging market. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Emerging markets
- Developing economies
- Developed market
- Free market
- Reform processes

Authors should read over the journal's Authors' Guidelines carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue - Emerging Market” should be chosen during your submission.
