

Special Issue on Forest Economics

Call for Papers

Forest Economics focuses on the study of the processing, marketing and consumption of forest products and services, which involves in the management of various forest resources and forest conservation. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Forest Economics.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Forest Economics. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Economics of forest disturbances
- Forest policies, programs and taxes
- Forest products markets and trade
- Forest ecosystem services economics
- Forestry and economic development
- Forest industry analysis

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Forest Economics” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	October 8th, 2015
Publication Date	December 2015

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at ojf@scirp.org.