
Special Issue on Language and Translation

Call for Papers

The function of language includes communication, expression of identity, game, expression of imagination and release of emotion. Language translation helps people communicate better. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Language and Translation.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Language and Translation. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Cultural translation
- Literature translation
- Translation skills
- Translation methods
- English translation
- Human and machine translation
- Translation learning and development
- Translation & interpreting

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - *Language and Translation” should be selected during your submission.
